

COMRADES SLAY THEIR BETRAYER

Solution to the New York Barrel Mystery Has Been Solved by the City Detectives.

EIGHT WATCHED

Police Have Several of Gang Under Arrest, and Much Evidence Against Them.

(Special By Scripps-Mellae.)

New York, April 16.—Eight members of a gang, known to the agents of the United States secret service as the most desperate lot of Italian counterfeiters in this section of the country, were arrested in this city as the murderers of the man whose body with eighteen stab wounds in the neck was found tightly packed in a barrel at the corner of Eleventh street and Avenue D.

The dead man, although not yet known by name, was, it is said, a member of the gang, and for days before his death was closely shadowed by secret service agents under the orders of William S. Flynn, chief of the local bureau, who for some time has been planning a wholesale round-up of the Italian counterfeiters in the East.

Is Killed by Comrades.

That this man was murdered by his comrades in the gang with which he had been identified there is no doubt, and it is practically certain that the eight men locked up at police headquarters planned his death and that some of the men accomplished it with their own hands.

The affront to his comrades which brought upon him the sentence of death is like the name of the man himself still a secret with the gang. The prisoners, all of whom were armed with huge revolvers and wicked-looking knives, maintained an attitude of sullen defiance after they were locked up.

Sure of Their Men.

It is asserted this gang perpetrated the murder and the agents of the United States secret service declare absolutely that they are the same men who cut the throat of Giuseppe Catania in Brooklyn last July.

A rule of long standing among them, the agents say, has been to kill anybody that stood in their way or betrayed them to the authorities.

The secret service men think that they were actual witnesses of the meeting at which the sentence of death on this man was pronounced, for there was a conference of several members of the gang now in custody in the rear of the butcher shop of Vita Laduca at 16 Stanton street.

Find Tell-tale Barrel.

The dead man was there, but while the others conversed in low tones in the store the man who was afterward killed stood alone in front of the store.

The men arrested gave records at police headquarters which the government detectives say are in the main correct.

In the basement of the house of one of the men arrested was also found a barrel, which is just like the one in which the murdered man was packed. It had the same marks on it.

WAS LITTLE GIRL VICTIM OF PLOT?

Prof. Smith Says He Has Found Traces of Strychnine in Gertrude Leek's Stomach.

Beloit is agog with a poisoning sensation, the victim being little Gertrude Leek who died suddenly last Friday, under suspicious circumstances. Prof. E. G. Smith of Beloit college reported the presence in the stomach of the dead child of a sufficient quantity of strychnine to kill several persons. District Attorney Jackson was yesterday called to the Line City to aid in unravelling the mystery, and on his motion the inquest was postponed to April 23.

No satisfactory clues to the death of the little one have been found. The child's life was insured for a small sum, but it was payable to the mother, who had been away from home a week. She lived with her grandmother. Search at every drug store in Beloit has failed to show that any member of the family purchased any of the drug which is held responsible for the death. The doctors refused to issue a death certificate.

PRETTY WEDDING LAST EVENING

Miss Maude Nowlan and Mr. John Fisher Happily Married, at Eight O'clock.

One of the prettiest of home weddings that has been solemnized this spring took place last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Nowlan, 53 Cornelia street, when Miss Maude Nowlan was happily married to Mr. John Lincoln Fisher by the Rev. ———.

The spacious parlors of the Nowlan residence had been tastefully decorated for the occasion and the ceremony which made Miss Nowlan and Mr. Fisher man and wife was said before a bower of green waving palms and clinging vines in the front parlor of the home. The hall had been most tastefully decorated in cardinal in honor of Mr. Fisher's long affiliation with the university, with streamers of dainty vines completely covering the balustrade.

The bride's dining room was in pink and huge bunches of pink roses in the center of the table and at the ends made a most pleasing sight when set off by the lights of candlelabra. The rest of the house was arranged with the idea of the red color scheme and huge bunches of American Beauty roses were found in both the dining room and library.

It was eight o'clock sharp when the mandolin orchestra, stationed in the upper hall, started the wedding march, and Mr. Fisher and the minister, Mr. Denison, appeared followed by Miss Nowlan. The ceremony was performed before the bank of greens and palms, and then the many friends present came forward to offer their congratulations. Prominent among these were Governor and Mrs. La Follette, who came from Madison on the evening train, for the wedding and returned on the 9:15.

A dainty luncheon was served and then Mr. and Mrs. Fisher left on a late train for the north to be absent about ten days. When they return they will live at No. 4 Gore street, in the home recently purchased by Mr. Fisher.

MAYOR'S STAND ON FRANCHISE

Attorney Thomas S. Nolan Makes Some Explanations on Law Points Referred To.

DEFENDS BURPEE

Believes That Tax-Payer Was Not Just, in His Assurances Against Him.

To the Editor: I read with some interest in the Gazette of last evening, the article by our old friend "Tax Payer" and your remarks concerning the Janesville Traction company ordinance and its veto by the Mayor. I concede for the purpose of this communication that the Mayor urged his objections to the ordinance with great force; and that he was animated solely with a desire to safeguard the city's interests. It will be remembered that he also vetoed the ordinance granting a franchise to the Beloit, Delavan Lake and Janesville Railway company, but the council passed it over his veto. There are those who believe that on these occasions the mayor acted at the dictation of some one else. I do not believe this, although I have good reason to assume that an interested attorney wrote the respective veto messages. There can be no doubt in the minds of any one, however, that his intention in each case was to kill the ordinance, if possible.

I desire to take issue with you and "Tax Payer" on your criticism on the city attorney and the validity of the objections urged by the mayor. The law of this state does not require that the franchise should be published. It requires that an application therefor containing the substance of the privilege asked for, shall be published, &c. The proposed ordinance, however, is often published. When an application for a franchise is read in a common council, it is invariably, and it would be irregular if it were not, referred to a committee for consideration. This committee is supposed to consider the matter carefully and make such report as its members may deem proper. As a rule, the ordinance reported by the committee differs in many material respects from the one prepared by the applicant. This must necessarily be so as almost every citizen has his ideas of what should be contained in a public utility franchise and usually urges them strongly upon his representative in the council. It will be remembered that the committee of the common council to which was referred the application of the Beloit, Delavan Lake and Janesville Railway company, fixed a different route for the railway along the public streets. The report of the committee was adopted by the common council. The people who were furnishing the money to build the road of course desired to take no chances as to the legality of the franchises granted to them by the several cities along the route of the proposed railway. In addition to the advice of their local counsel they procured the opinions of an eminent lawyer in Milwaukee and one in Chicago, each of whom is an acknowledged expert in traction law. They agreed on the proposition that the Janesville franchise was valid, the changes being within the power of the committee and the council. I will not state the reasons here.

Referring to the objection that the ordinance was broad enough to permit the carriage of freight, I will simply state that this has so little foundation I will not waste words in an endeavor to refute it. In this position I will undoubtedly be sustained by any unprejudiced person who has carefully read the proposed ordinance. No lawyer who is not interested will seriously contend that the mayor is right on this point. Thus it will be observed that if Mr. Burpee disagrees with the mayor and the attorney for the railway proposed by C. S. Jackson and the Hayes Brothers, his opinion coincides with some others. I will make no comparison as to the ability of the respective lawyers, as I have the highest respect for each and all of them.

Relative to the matter of the bridge I wish to state that Mr. Burpee prepared an amended ordinance by the terms of which the Janesville Traction company was obliged before laying its rails upon any bridge in the city of Janesville to properly fortify and strengthen it, and thereafter to maintain and keep in good repair the portion of any bridge or bridges occupied by it, and providing that in case of any failure on the part of the company in relation thereto, that the work might be done by the city and the cost collected by legal action against said company. The proceedings of the common council will show that the chairman of the highway committee stated he had such an ordinance in his possession ready to introduce.

The efforts of "Tax payer" and your editorial writer to impeach the motives and ability of Mr. Burpee will not meet with general sympathy or approval. He needs no defense, but as a brother lawyer I will

STORY TOLD OF FORMER RESIDENT

CHATTANOOGA PAPER HAS INTER-ESTING ARTICLE ABOUT HIM.

A. M. STRONG TRAVELED FAR

Son of a Former Janesville Postmaster—Is a Globe Trotter.

The following clipping taken from a Chattanooga, Tenn. paper, describes a Mr. Strong, a former Janesville boy who is called a tramp from choice. Mr. Clarence Baker, another old resident of Janesville lives in Tennessee says that he thinks he must have been the son of the late El H. Stone, who was postmaster here in the fifties, and whose brother was in the 13th Wisconsin.

"A. M. Strong, one of the most unique characters America has ever produced was in Chattanooga one day last week. He is a newspaper writer, holding credentials from several eastern papers, photographer, and, as a Chicago editor once styled him, 'a tramp from choice.' He is also a next-neighbor man and when occasion demands it and there is nothing else in sight, when the last dollar is vanquished, he hustles a job railroaded, and in this business he is equally at home in the engine or caboose.

While in Chattanooga, Strong related some rather peculiar experiences, one of which was a trip of 17,000 miles for a package of photograph plates which he did not get. He left the plates in Durban, Natal, South Africa, on a previous trip simply because he had to, and he has now but lately returned from the last trip which he made to recover them.

On both of these trips he shipped from New Orleans on English horse transports. On the first after his military service, he was sent home by the English war office, on the second he was discharged from the ship at Cardiff, Wales, and left there to get home as best he could. Not being able to get away from Cardiff by sea, he tried Yankee tramp methods on the English railroads and inside of twenty-four hours he crossed England to Liverpool, where, with his companions he succeeded in getting the plates back to America. The plates Strong went after are views he made while serving the Boer war, and beside the 210 negatives there are in the case two cameras, whose value is easily $150. He tells the story as follows:

Story of the Plates

"I planted those plates with a photographer in Durban, because I had been informed by a friend that my kit was to be inspected at the wharf, and I knew if it was I would lose many, if not all of them. The friend with whom I left them was to ship them as safe, but I got tired waiting for them and last summer I started back for them, but the last ship on which I sailed only went to East London, Cape Colony, and as the Cape was still under the martial law and I could not land, I had to come back without achieving my mission.

"The plates are now quite valuable and include views taken from the field during some of the engagements, scenes in and about Johannesburg, Pretoria, Bloemfontein and Ladysmith. There were also some views taken in the trenches at Sion Kop, the morning after the battle, and eight plates made in the larger concentration camps, showing very forcibly, England's humane (?) way of treating non-combatants. I had made a few prints of the last named and one of them fell into Gen. Cleyers (the department commander) hands. He ordered the pictures destroyed and the plates brought to headquarters, but he never got them. I was offered £100 in London for the Sion Kop, and concentration negatives or for information that would locate them."

Some Interesting Documents

Strong had with him here his discharge papers from the hospital service which shows his conduct to have been "very good."

This was not Strong's first introduction to the gods of war. While yet a lad in his teens, he enlisted in the Eighth Wisconsin Volunteers, in his native town, Janesville, Wis. After a month he returned to his northern home, but after his father's death in 1870 started on his travels. He was in Paris when Von Moltke marched his victorious Prussians into the gay capital. While in Paris he became acquainted with Murat Halstead, and from that veteran journalist received his first lessons in press correspondence. Since that time he has been sent, or has gone voluntarily, to the seat of many wars.

He was in Cairo, Egypt when the Wolsey relief expedition for the rescue of "Chinese" Gordon was fitted out, and he enlisted and went with the column to Khartoum. In 1894 he served under Garcia in Cuba's "ten years of war." He was in Guatemala when an insurrection broke out and took the field as a captain of irregulars, but was wounded shortly afterwards and sent back to the states.

An Engineer in 1892

In 1892 he was running an engine out of Casa Grande, Brazil. When De Melo tried to upset the government, Strong was pressed into the government service, and for three months was busy hauling troops and supplies from the interior to the coast.

He was back in Cuba during the last rebellion but was deported by the last just a week before the blowing up of the Maine. When he got back to the states he accepted an assignment with the New York World and the St. Louis Dispatch that took him to Mexico, and he thereby missed the Spanish American war. When he got back from Mexico he started for South Africa, and has been there nearly all of the time since. In this way he has earned the Chicago man's title, "a tramp from choice."

Strong does not in the least resemble a tramp, either in language, dress or action. He is 55 years old, looks about 40—and is a fair type of the educated traveled American. He has no home but could have one with a married daughter, who resides in Cincinnati, Ohio. He says he prefers the unsettled life he leads and has a deep more fun than he could have if he were anchored in one place. There is but one country that has a civilized form of government that he has not visited, and there is no hardship he would not face nor danger he would hazard to get near the seat of any war.

FOR A DRIVING CLUB

Petition Going Rounds for a Matinee
Driving Organization Here.

Prominent horsemen of the city are heading a petition for the formation of a matinee driving club in this city. In an attempt to revive the interest in that sport which was felt a few years ago. Those who are pushing the project say there is every reason to look for success, and they hope to call a meeting of organization within a few days.

Licensed to Marry: County Clerk Starr yesterday issued permission to wed in favor of Joseph Brown and Mary Monahan, both of Beloit.

SMALL AUDIENCE SAW GOOD PLAY

James O'Neil Gives the Janesville
Theater, Goers a Rare Treat.

James O'Neil gave a masterly and wholly delightful impersonation of Pet Quilliam in Calne "Manxman," which was presented at the Myers Grand last evening by a uniformly capable company. The drama ranked easily among the best productions which Manager Myers has placed before the clientele this season. Whatever the faults of dramatizations from the Calne pen—and last night's audience did not appear to notice those shortcomings—there are no either of whining or of frenzied over-tempered and very convincing interpretation of his own part. The measured audience was sincerely appreciative, and forced him twice to come before the curtain.

May Buckley played the part of Kate with very effective repression. Not once was there the suspicion either of whining or of renzied overdoing. Her entire reading of the part was simple and effective—charmingly affected at the beginning of the drama, but later clouded with quiet gloom.

Joseph Kilgour was handsome and powerful as Elger, acting the faithless, friend with a high degree of art. Frank Connor as his first cousin, and Charles Kent as Caesar Cregeen, supplied the comedy touch with a good deal of skill.

Effectiveness was added to the presentation by the appropriate setting which the Liebler company has given. Tame pigeons added appreciably to the scene at the "Manx Fairy" Inn. The electric effects were used with careful artistic discrimination. A fitting orchestra program, under the direction of W. H. Lake, added to make the evening entirely noteworthy.

WILL STAMP OUT DISEASED CATTLE

State Veterinarian Roberts is Watching Hydrphobia in Cattle Very Closely.

Radical measures are being taken to stamp out the spread of hydrophobia among hogs in this county. Jesse Crandall of the town of La Prairie has lost a number of animals from this disease, and the spread of the contagion among the rabid hogs has not yet been stopped. State Veterinarian Roberts of this city is constantly on the lookout, and has found it difficult to handle all of the cases which are brought to his notice.

Dr. Roberts has been doing good execution in the vicinity of Deerfield this week. Twenty-seven head of cattle on a single farm were found suffering from tuberculosis and by order of the doctor all were killed. The balance of the herd was quarantined and every precaution will be employed to keep the dread disease from spreading.

LABORING MEN FORM A UNION

Met Last Night at Bricklayers' Hall, and Will Apply for a Charter.

Many laboring men of the city met in the Bricklayers' and Masons' hall on North River street last evening. The object of the meeting was to organize a union for the laboring men of this city. There were about thirty men signed their names to the agreement and a charter will be asked for at once. This union will include all of the branches of manual labor and will be a branch of the Laborers' International Protective Union.

CEMENT POST FACTORY CLOSES FOR FEW DAYS

Shortage of Wire Forced Spring
Brook Concern to Lay Off Employees.

Because of the inability to secure enough wire to keep the plant in operation, the American Cement Post company has been forced to shut down for a few days. The interruption is very unwelcome. In the present rush of work, and as soon as the needed supply can be secured the factory will be as busy as ever. The Bicknell Hardware company has just completed a couple of pieces of machinery for the works. One shapes the iron strips which are clamped to the posts, while the other drills the holes in the same strips.

St. Mary's Gives Supper: A large number were attracted to Foresters' hall last evening by the supper given under the auspices of St. Mary's church.

Won the Quilt: Mrs. Mary Dunwiddie, the holder of number 47, was the lucky persons in the raffle held at the Women's Relief Corps, yesterday afternoon.

For Storage Purposes: What was formerly the St. Paul freight depot has been moved to a point on the east side of the river near the Hanson furniture factory and there re-built to be used as a storage warehouse.

Winter Wheat and Oats Look Well in Some Portions of the County.

Our farmers have run up against a tough proposition in the weather that has been with us since last Sunday. The weather man has evidently been trying to see just what he could give us in the way of disagreeable atmospheric conditions and yet label it spring.

What promised to be a moderately early season will turn out not to be such after all and when the tillers of the soil can get on the land again it will be a general hustle to keep ahead of the work. Farm work goes very well if the farmers can do the driving, but when the work is doing the rushing it is not a satisfactory condition of affairs for either the farmer or the farm.

Some farmers were through sowing oats before the bad weather came, while others were only partly through and some had not even begun. Those who were right in the midst of sowing, and had not as yet dragged over the land sown, will not be able to do so now. And this is only a fair sample of the many uncertainties that rise up to confront the farmer from the turning of the first furrow in the spring until the "frost is on the pumpkin and the fodder's in the shock."

Early Oats

Some Rock county farmers say their early oats have sprouted nicely and are coming up in good shape. The great danger in the weather of the past week would be the liability of the seed to rot in the ground and consequently those farmers who can see the green sprouts shooting up over their fields, can congratulate themselves on the fact.

It is better to have the oats up and run the chance of a late freeze than to have them spoll in the damp ground, as is liable.

Favorable Signs

Reports from different portions of the state indicate that the crop season opened mainly favorable. There has been some complaint of freezing of winter grains and clover but winter-killing has, fortunately, been confined to comparatively small areas and, taken as a whole, the state has suffered less than the usual damage from this source.

The snowfall was, during the winter, except in limited localities, amply sufficient to protect winter grains and grasses.

Good Winter

Rock county was favored in this regard as all winter grains are in fine condition and clover and timothy wintered well. Pastures too, pulled through in good shape and are beginning to look green.

The annual report of the field operations of the government bureau of soils for 1902, containing the results of the soil survey work for the calendar year, has just been completed and is now on the press.

It will not, however, be available for distribution before next October, owing to the length of time necessary to lithograph the accompanying maps.

Fifteen soil parties were maintained in the field during the year and the acres covered were scattered throughout the country from New York to California and from Porto Rico to Puget sound.

Janesville Area

The report will have an interest for Rock county people from the fact that one of the parties pursued investigations in what is termed the "Janesville area" last July, mapping during that time 440 square miles of territory and indicating the different soil types which they found there.

The survey was in charge of Dr. Jay A. Bonesteel, with Prof. Failyer as assistant. They pursued their investigations in the towns of Clinton, Fulton, Janesville, Newark, Plymouth, Porter, and Rock and in the cities of Beloit, Edgerton and Janesville, here in Rock county.

Rock county farmers keep on experimenting with new crops and growing old ones to better advantage.

Sugar Beets

Quite an acreage in the county will be devoted to sugar beets this season, the seed for which comes from Germany. It is confidently expected that our soil will produce an article containing the per cent. of sugar necessary to make the growing of the beet profitable.

The venture will be watched with considerable interest and as the acreage is well scattered throughout the county the results obtained will be fairly indicative of what can be done toward making the industry one of permanent and lasting value.

Application has been made by a number of young business men in Beloit for a charter for a lodge of Elks. At the last meeting of the lodge the matter was discussed and a committee was appointed to look up the subject. The members of the committee are George E. King, George H. Sale, and George Buchholz.

SPRING IN NORMANDY

THE MOST BEAUTIFUL SEASON
IN SUNNY FRANCE.Scenery and People a Delight to the Soul of the Artist—Even Paris Has Not the Charm of the Earthly Paradise Found There.

(Special Correspondence.)

ERHAPS when the novelty of Paris has worn off a trifle, and the winter's hard work in the ateliers has made the young American art student sigh for the coming spring—the beautiful Parisian spring of which he has read and heard so much—he hails it with delight, and passing through the Jardin de Luxembourg on his way to Julian's of a morning, he is apt to linger long, drinking in the fragrance of the nar-

Castle of Blois; Court of Louis XII. cist. the daffodils whose proud yellow heads are upturned to the sun, the modest hyacinths and all the other flowers of early spring that dot the flower beds with studied regularity as to place, but with a blaze of color, of reds and blues, violets and yellows mixed together like so many splashes from nature's color box on her vast palette.

But even the beauties of spring in Paris become commonplace after a while, and the student begins to think that, after all, the country is good enough for him, and why should he not run up to Brittany or Normandy with Jimmy Whiting and Tom and Jean Chailard and some of the others who are going up to paint the peasant on his native heath?

So color box and brushes are packed, Jean writes to Pere Jacques when they are to arrive, and Celeste, the model who goes along to pose for the master "en plein air," shares their enthusiasm; for was she not discovered in Normandy by the great Fleury-Robert, who pronounced her one of the most beautiful women he had ever seen, and who made her face known to the world over when he painted her in "The Fisher Girl," which hangs in the galleries of the Luxembourg?

So, one fine day, they all pile into a second-class carriage and arrange their belongings in the racks overhead; the train puffs slowly out of the Gare St. Lazare, and in a few hours they are stepping out at the little station in Normandy, where they are greeted with delight by Pere Jacques.

They walk to the little tavern with him, and, after being assigned their rooms and given a chance to freshen up after the journey, they go into the cool salle a manger and sit down to a lordly repast of "tripes a la mode de Caen." Normandy elder, pommes saute, petits pois au beurre, with coeur-creme cheese and strawberry jam to top off on; then they take their coffee and cigarettes out into the garden, where Suzanne in her white cap serves them. And the ambitious American art student vows that his first picture will be of Suzanne herself, who looks so sweet and demure among the roses.

In the morning they are up with the sun, and off to explore the quaint little town, Jean stopping to chat with this one and that, and Celeste leaving them to run and kiss her old uncle, first on one cheek, then on the other, as he comes out of his little farmhouse at the sound of all the merry laughter.

The ambitious American art student is delighted to find that the decrepit to the spring for the water for dejeuner.

The long walks through the shadowy, wooded aisles of the forest are delights in themselves, and when suddenly he comes upon Grandmere Theriot with her bundle of fagots, 70, but still good for many a year, he prevails upon her, in his best French, to stand still for a moment while he makes a hasty sketch of her.

One of these days every one is up betimes, for a fete of the church is to be celebrated. Best clothes are donned, faces scrubbed until they shine, and peasants arrive from the country for miles about to pay their respects to the patron saint whose fete they are to celebrate.

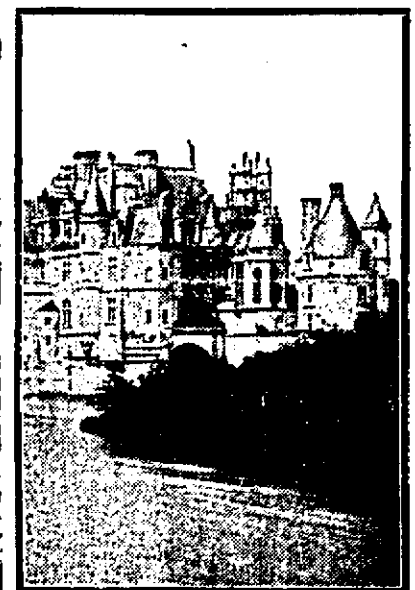

Early in the morning one may see the religious on the way to mass in the little stone church, and a little later one sees trim little white-capped maids hurrying across the market place to the big convent; for the last bell is ringing, and their little feet patter across the cobblestones lest they should be too late. The student looks admiringly after them and thinks what a stunning picture they would make in their sweet, unconscious beauty. For these little maids have cheeks like roses and eyes like stars, but they do not know it—yet.

Down on the road to Dinan there is a dear little farmhouse, with a sparkling brook running through the green field behind it, and one may see, early in the morning, madame on her knees washing the linen and bleaching it on the grass. There is a nest of little ones here, Genevieve, the eldest, a slim demoiselle of 12, and the little brothers and sisters tugging at her skirts as she minds the geese.

In the fields close by, the good pere and his farmhands are plowing, the furrows as they are turned giving forth a delicious odor of damp earth. And in another field, not far away, in sabots and white linen caps, the two old Benoit sisters are working busily.

All these, thinks the American student, are such subjects for a canvas as he had never before dreamed of.

These summer days in Normandy and Brittany! The dewy mornings and the wonderful evenings, when the sun sets in a blaze of glory and the tall poplars are seen like sentinels standing out against the darkening sky, even now beginning to be pierced with little golden stars, which, as the little

TEACH VALUE OF PUNCTUALITY.

Clever Scheme in Use at a School in New York.

The criticisms of the Merchants' association, which pointed out that the boys who come from the public schools are deficient in punctuality, have borne fruit. They have prompted the principal and teachers of public school No. 166, Eighty-ninth street and Amsterdam avenue, to adopt tactics aiming at a decrease in the tardiness and lateness in that school. An organization has been formed among the boys, the officers and members of which are pledged to do all in their power to make the tardy and late boy reform. The first move of the organization has been to procure two flags—one, the star-spangled banner, the other a pure white pennant with a black blot in the center. Each morning of the school days the Stars and Stripes wave from a conspicuous point till 8:45 o'clock. Those who reach the school house before the flag is taken down are on time, and since they know that their punctuality is a matter of daily comment among the teachers and the members of the new club, they make it the basis of a proud boast. Those who find themselves walking into the school under the blotted banner, which follows the flag very promptly, feel at once that their tardiness is a reproach to them. Those who reach the building after the tardy banner has been taken down have their names taken and are later admonished.—New York Times.

There is nothing doubtful or uncertain about the working and effects of Paine's Celery Compound. It stands supreme as a spring system cleanser and health builder. It reaches without loss of precious time, the cause of sickness and disease in a way that no other remedy can do. Its first and most important mission is the purification of the life stream, increasing its volume and quality. It then stirs all the organs that work sluggishly. It restores strength, renews vitality, regulates the kidneys, liver and bowels, and makes people strong and well. For these reasons Paine's Celery Compound as a spring medicine stands far above all other prescriptions and remedies that promise so much and accomplish so little. Mrs. R. O. Starkey, Jackson, Mich., says: "For many years I suffered more than tongue can tell from eczema and blood troubles. In the spring season my agonies and distresses were increased, and I often wished to die. Boils and pimples added to my sufferings and for weeks I was not fit to be seen. Doctors afforded me but small relief, I spent scores of dollars for advertised medicines but got no cure from them. I got hold of one of your books and read about a lady who was afflicted as I was and cured by Paine's Celery Compound. I procured a bottle of your Compound without delay and began using it. After I used the third bottle I experienced a blessed change, the eczema and eruptions were disappearing. So happy was I that I continued with the medicine till my face and body were clear and smooth. I am a new woman in every respect. I am now well and strong, and believe the cure is a permanent one. May heaven bless you in your work of doing good to suffering humanity."

SEWAGE PLANS ARE PRESENTED

CAPTAIN RUGER APPROVES OF ENGINEER KERCH'S PLANS.

SHOULD ACT IMMEDIATELY

The System Should Be in Place for Actual Service as Soon as Possible.

Chief of the objections which have been made to the sewerage system proposed by C. F. Loweth in 1892, and endorsed by the council at that time, is the plan to empty the sewerage into the river at the heart of the city. If the sewerage plans recently worked out by City Engineer C. V. Kerch are adopted, this objection will be ultimately done away with. Until the system is completed the sewers will enter the river at the usual place but the water will convey all sewerage to a point below the lower cotton mills. When the system is complete all sewerage will be brought together and emptied into the river at the same place, below the Monterey dam. This will make it possible to establish a disposal plant at that point. If it later becomes illegal to empty sewerage into the river, in his report delivered to the common council Monday, Capt. Edward Ruger gave it as his opinion that such would ultimately be the case, and the direction of the disposal works would become imperative.

Favor Kerch Plans
In his report Mr. Ruger favored Mr. Kerch's plans throughout. Mr. Loweth of St. Paul, who drew the plans in 1892, at which time the sewerage question was very generally discussed, and there was felt to be a need of a public sewerage system, made provision for both sanitary sewers and storm water sewers. On the east side of the river the two sewers were independent, and on the west in part and in part combined. All of the main sewers emptied into the river in the business district. This Mr. Ruger felt to be a distinct disadvantage.

Under Mr. Kerch's system there are seventeen sewer districts. Two first seven districts are west and north of the center of the river. The remainder are south and west of that point. The districts are determined wholly by the topography of the land. He provides only for a sanitary sewerage system, no plans being made for storm water.

Empty at Racine Street
In planning the system, Mr. Kerch assumes a maximum of 178 gallons per capita, with two persons to each thirty-three feet in length of sewer. On each side of the river there are main trunk sewers with intercepting sewers, all conveying the sewerage to one point. All the lines on the east side of the river converge at Racine street, and until the system is completed are to empty into the river at that point, where later, there is to be a flushing and intake pipe, and the sewerage conducted by a siphon across the river.

Mr. Ruger recommends that the intercepting and main trunk sewers be constructed as soon as possible. He advises that the double strength, vitrified, salt glazed, earthen pipes be used, up to the 30 and 36 inch sizes. Mr. Ruger's report was made upon request of the sewerage committee of the common council. What action is taken toward building a public sewerage system will rest with the new councilmen.

A Communication
Editor of Gazette: In your report of the proceedings of the Municipal league meeting last evening it says it had brought about the permanent retirement from politics of myself, with others. It also states that when names were demanded of the subscribers to the fund over to the league my name was again read. I wish to say positively that I never agreed to retire temporarily from politics or that I have given or was ever asked to subscribe to a fund for the purpose of bringing about the dismissal of the suits. In justice to my friends and myself I hope you will give this article as much prominence as the one of last evening.

GIVEN ONE YEAR AT HARD LABOR

ED. MITCHELL SENT TO WAUPUN THIS MORNING.

CONFESSED FORGING CHECK

His Companion Will Be Held for Trial—Other Cases in Municipal Court Today.

Brought to this city on a charge of forgery preferred against him in Beloit, Edward Mitchell was this morning sentenced by Judge C. J. Fifield to spend the coming year in the state penitentiary at Waupun at hard labor. Mitchell pleaded guilty to the charge of signing the name of George L. Sparks to a ten-dollar note, which was cashed at the Belmer restaurant in Beloit a week ago, and waived examination. His companion, Reginald Sires, registered a plea of not guilty to the same charges of forgery and he will be held for trial on Saturday, April 25.

Another Forgery Charge

Judge Fifield had a busy morning in the municipal court. Another forgery case came before him in the civil suit brought by J. D. Scaries, residing in Brodhead, and C. W. Moore in Evansville. The latter claims that the signature is a forgery, so far as his name is concerned, and that he did not sign with his son. There are two notes for two hundred dollars each. The case will be heard tomorrow.

Other Cases
Art Sutherland was brought before the court on a charge of having been intoxicated. He was fined $3.00 and costs of $1.20 which he paid.

Martin Gagan was up on a charge of vagrancy. After asking testimony from Officers Hogan and Brown and the defendant, the court sentenced him to thirty days of hard labor at the county jail. It was shown that although he had done some work recently, he had been in an almost constant condition of intoxication, having been arrested four times in the past few days.

Gratuities—Cannot Be Recovered From Son's Estate

A mother made payments for medical services and expenses at an asylum for her son. At the time she began to take care of him he was insane, could not support himself, and there was no expectation on her part when she paid the bills that she would be reimbursed. While in the asylum his father died leaving him some property. Held, that the advancements made by the mother were gratuities, and she could not recover for them upon the death of the son from his estate. 25 Chicago Legal News, 272.

Liquor Tax Law—What Constitutes a Hotel

A house which was kept open for the entertainment of all who came to it, without any previous agreement as to the duration of stay or terms of entertainment, is a hotel, in the contemplation of a liquor tax law. It is not necessary to constitute a hotel, that the proprietor should keep a safe for valuables, or have a register or private stable accommodations. A building may be a hotel, though it displays the sign, "Boarding House." 30 N. Y. Supplement (Judge Kellogg) 666.

Trade Marks—"Benedictine"—Unfair Competition

Benedictine is a cordial made for 300 years by the Benedictine monks in France. After the destruction of their Monastery during the French revolution, the secret formula for the cordial descended by inheritance to a Frenchman who in 1863 commenced its manufacture. A corporation was afterwards organized, to which he transferred the business, and in 1876 the name was registered as a trade mark in the United States. Defendants about 1890 placed on the market a cordial in bottles of the same size and nearly the same seals having printed thereon the name "Liquor de St. Benedict." The printed matter on the labels was not the same, but was in French although the article was made in Chicago. Held, that it was evidently defendants' intention to palm off its goods as those of complainant, and that complainant was entitled to an injunction restraining the use of the word "St. Benedict" as an infringement of its trade mark, and of the bottles and labels described. 120 Federal Rep. (Illinois, Judge Jenkins) 75.

Labor Strikes—Acts of Violence

The action of labor organizations, whose members are engaged in a strike, in undertaking to prevent the employer from carrying on his business by preventing other men from entering or remaining in its service, by assaulting them or intimidating them by means of picketing, or by threatening them or their families to such an extent that such employees are afraid to go to or from their place of work, is an illegal invasion of both the property rights of the employer and the personal rights of its workmen, which a court of equity will enjoin where there is no adequate remedy at law. 120 Federal Rep. 102.

Divorce—Difference in Religion

An important decision was recently given by the provincial court of Vienna Austria. In November, 1899 an Austrian married in London, an English lady. The ceremony was a civil one, the man describing himself as of no faith, and his bride being a protestant. The husband applied to the court in Vienna for a separation from his wife. After investigating the circumstances attending the marriage, the court held that it was invalid in Austria on account of the difference in religion of the two parties. This decision was given in spite of its being urged that such marriages were perfectly legal in England, France and Germany. (Law Notes for April)

Hyomel Removes Terror of Asthma—Money Back if it Fails.

One who has not had the disease cannot appreciate the terrors of asthma. Those who are subject to it, even in a mild form, will welcome the news that there is at last a remedy that can be relied upon to cure.

W. J. Hanson of Dover, N. H., writes: "I received the Hyomel yesterday afternoon and it came in just the right time, for I was having a bad spell of asthma and was sitting in my chair trying to get a long breath, but it was hard work. I commenced to use Hyomel, and I wish you could have seen the change it made in my breathing. I am feeling all right again today and shall go to work tomorrow. I think Hyomel is wonderful."

Clark M. Robinson, Manorville, N. Y., writes: "The Hyomel I sent for last Tuesday while suffering with asthma, came just in time to save me from death."
Prof. George L. A. Martin, principal of school No. 27, Brooklyn, N. Y., writes: "A few breaths of Hyomel almost instantaneously banished my asthmatic troubles."

This whole page could be filled with similar expressions of gratitude from those whom Hyomel has cured of asthma, but a stronger proof than all letters is the fact that the proprietors authorize the People's Drug Co. to return the money to anyone who uses Hyomel for asthma, and does not get relief. No questions will be asked; just say you want your money back, and the People's Drug Co. will refund it.

1000 CLAIMS

Equal Not a Single Fact.—Janesville Endorsement Makes This Claim a Fact.

Endorsed by scores of Janesville's citizens who cheerfully make a public statement of their experience, is proof we have to back our claims that Doan's Kidney Pills cure every form of kidney ills, from a common backache to serious urinary disorders. Here is one local example. We have many more like it.

Mrs. N. J. Casey, of 109 Prairie ave., says "Doan's Kidney Pills proved better than any other medicine I took for my kidneys. These organs troubled me off and on for many years. Backache was the chief symptom and often caused me to suffer severely. I tried a number of remedies but continued to grow worse instead of better. I was finally persuaded to try Doan's Kidney Pills and procured a box at the People's Drug Store. I only took them a few days when I felt better. Should there be any recurrence of my trouble I know what to use."

Frank L. Perley's musical comedy "The Chaperons" now on its second season of success, was produced under the stage direction of George L. Lederer, whose brilliant imagination and genius for inventing entertaining ensembles are said to have had full swing in giving the production that took the play goers of this country, and even Europe, by storm, no American manager has appeared who could compete with Mr. Lederer in handling the chorus. Mr. Lederer's genius lies in not only devising brilliant stage pictures, but he is also gifted with a fine sense of color and beauty in harmonizing of costumes and scenery, and he has furnished valuable assistance in these respects to Mr. Perley, in "The Chaperons" which play, it should be stated, will be given at Myers Grand Wednesday, April 22.

PRESS AGENT WHO TALKS LEARNEDLY

George Bowles, of The Chaperons, is the Type of the Coming Showman.

The theatrical press agent is gradually becoming extinct. Once in a while one of the real ones appears as advance showman for a real company. George Bowles belongs to that category. He struck Janesville yesterday, but he didn't spring any of his pipe dreams to boost the "Chaperons," who he is representing this season. No, that he couldn't do it. Two minutes' conversation with him would confirm his reputation of having inflicted more gigantic fairy tales on the long suffering public than almost any other of his ilk.

His reason for abstaining from the use of the press matter of the good old days—the whole gamut of threadbare "pipes"—is twofold. "The people won't stand for it," he said, "and the show I've got this year don't need it." But that did not prevent his riddling himself of a rapid-fire volley of theatrical experiences, show folk gossip, and incidentally, little comment on the local matrimonial situation.

In some way the subject of the conversation turned to Philadelphia. "That's the birthplace of the flying squadron," said Bowles. "You may have heard of it; it has quite a large membership among newspaper, theatrical, and railroad men in certain parts of the country. Its object is purely convivial, and its meeting places are 'coaling stations' in various cities. In Kansas City it is the Baltimore house, in Philadelphia it is the Zells, and Chicago, New York, and St. Louis are all provided with stations where the members gather at eight bells—midnight.

"Each of these cities is provided with a commandant whose business is to keep things going. Our commandant at Chicago will probably be deposed soon. He has taken to be quite a home man, and hardly ever goes out nights. A charge of inactivity will be preferred against him."

It happens that on the night the "Chaperons" appear in this city one of the smart weddings of the spring is to be solemnized. Bowles was led to give a little dissertation on the etiquette of marriage.

"Why don't they have the ceremony performed earlier in the day, an then go to the theatre in the evening? As I understand it, night weddings are no longer fashionable. Of course I am open to correction, but it seems to me that they hardly realize quite how good a thing they are preparing to miss. A wedding given precedence over a 'Chaperons' performance, forsooth!"

PLOT TO MURDER GENERAL OTIS

SAYS WRITING IS AGUINALDO'S

Officer Declares He Is Familiar With the Chirography of the Deposed Rebel President and Is Positive in His Identification of Papers.

Washington, April 16.—While examining an immense quantity of papers captured from the Filipino insurgents Capt. John R. M. Taylor of the Fourteenth Infantry has discovered a remarkable document, indorsed on the back with a direction to kill Gen. Otis. This indorsement, Capt. Taylor insists, is in the handwriting of Aguinaldo. A translation of the document is as follows:

"Our Honorable President: We, the signers, who subscribe the declaration appended, by these presents protest against the American proclamation; we recognize no authority but that of God and the revolutionary government, and we offer our lives and property for the independence of our country.

"Manila-San Miguel, Jan. 12, 1899. 'Feliciano Cruz.' Twenty-five signatures follow. On the back is written, in the handwriting of E. Aguinaldo: 'Liberino Kottenko, Feliciano de Cruz to kill Gen. Otis. Commissioned.'

"Accuses Aguinaldo. Captain Taylor called the attention of the chief of the bureau of insular affairs to this document in the following letter:

"Sir: I have the honor to inclose herewith a copy and translation of an important document I found among the records of the Philippine insurgent government. The note on the back is in the handwriting with which I am familiar, and one of such peculiar mannerisms that it cannot be mistaken by one who has seen much of it. I have a quantity of holographic letters and notes in my official possession; the most cursory comparison between them and the handwriting of this note will show its identity.

"Insurgent Clubs. "On Jan. 4, 1899, a proclamation was issued by Gen. Otis in which he declared the sovereignty of the United States over the Philippines. Many protests were drawn up in the Philippines against this. Most of them were drawn up by order of the insurgent government, but this letter was probably an unsolicited evidence of the adhesion of some Katipunan lodge, or of one of the popular clubs in Manila organized by Sandico while in the pay of the United States government; clubs whose name covered their real purpose, the formation of groups ready at a given signal to attack the Americans within the city.

"Details of Plot. "Probably this paper was handed to Aguinaldo by a delegation of the signers. If this was the case, the man who signs first, Feliciano de Cruz, was one of the delegates.

"Aguinaldo probably talked with him in private and as a result of the conversation he wrote this note on the back of the paper. The other name does not appear in the signatures. He was probably some follower or intimate of Cruz.

"It is to be noted that Gen. Otis' residence was in the barrio ward of San Miguel. The signers of this paper were men who lived about it and knew the grounds well; some of them may have been servants in the house.

"The attack on the American outposts did not occur until Feb. 4, 1899."

Otis Expected Assassination.

Rochester, N. Y., April 16.—Brig. Gen. Elwell S. Otis said: "At the time mentioned in the dispatch we were living in the summer palace, near San Miguel. Near us were a large number of Filipinos, over whom, however, we kept careful watch day and night. We had long anticipated such an order from Aguinaldo."

ROOSEVELT'S GREAT AMBITION

Springfield, Mass., April 16.—The Republican says editorially that President Roosevelt is ambitious to succeed President Elliot of Harvard university.

"There is an interesting suggestion current among Harvard men who know Theodore Roosevelt well," says the Republican. "It is that the president of the United States cherishes a strong ambition, when he has finished the second term in the white house, which he expects the American people are to secure for him, to become president of Harvard university."

ADMIRAL IN THRILLING RESCUE

Harrington Saves Two Half-Drowned Men Off Craney Island.

Norfolk, Va., April 16.—Admiral Harrington, commandant of the Norfolk navy yard, figured in a thrilling rescue of two men off Craney Island. The naval tug Wahneta, with the admiral and a party aboard, was returning from Old Point. A heavy gale was blowing. The lookout sighted an upturned boat off Craney Island, with two men clinging to the bottom. Admiral Harrington ordered all steam crowded on and the tug headed for the wreck. The men of the boat were nearly exhausted. The admiral ordered a small boat launched and he personally took the wheel. The half-drowned men were rescued, taken aboard the Wahneta and brought to the navy yard. The capized vessel was the Catherine Allen, from James river to Norfolk. The Allen is a total wreck.

STRIKE IN BIG KNITTING MILLS

Thousands of Men Decide to Quit Work at Amsterdam, N. Y.

Amsterdam, N. Y., April 16.—When the knitting mills of Amsterdam closed Monday night the spinners quit their jacks with a determination not to return to work unless the demand made six months ago for an increase in wages averaging 15 per cent is granted. The manufacturers, who had paid no heed to the request, met and formed an organization, after which it was voted unanimously not to grant any increase of wages. Thousands of employees may be affected by the strike, which is the most serious in Amsterdam since the memorable one of 1886, which affected every industry in the city. The present difficulty affects fifteen mills, which include all those employing spinners excepting the four of A. V. Norris & Sons.

RAILWAY NOTES OF MUCH INTEREST

Changes Made at Both Depots, and and Other Bits of Rail News.

Plenty of power will soon be the order of the day at the North-western roundhouse, as the ponderous new boiler, which has been expected for some time, has arrived and will be installed as soon as the necessary changes, now under way, can be completed.

Masons are at work enlarging the bed for the boiler and when it is in place Foreman Erickson will have 100-horse power with which to do business in his department. During the past few months a locomotive has been used in connection with the old boiler, in order to generate enough steam, and this inconvenience will now be done away with.

Fine Boiler
The new boiler was built at the company's shops in Chicago and was the third one ordered for Janesville, the first having been used at the Chicago avenue shops, while the second went to Belvidere instead of coming here.

St. Paul Notices
Following out its usual custom, the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul company, has sent out a circular letter to its employees relative to the beautifying of the company's ground and the cleanly appearance of the buildings during the summer season. "Keep all lawns free from waste paper and all the buildings clean and inviting," is the general suggestion.

Bob-Tail Cars
A couple of small way-cars, or what is known in railway parlance as bob-tail cabooses, went north on a North-western freight this morning. These cabooses are about one-half the length of ordinary cars of this class and have only four wheels.

Engineer Moran, who pulls the morning passenger from here to Chicago is laying off, Engineer Neilins taking his place at the throttle.

Novel Car
An object of interest in the St. Paul roundhouse this morning, was an inspection car used by the superintendent in making a careful tour of the road. It is a four wheel affair, with three chairs attached, two being well down in front for the use of the officials, and the other higher up and back for the motorman. The car is driven by a gasoline motor, and was built by the light inspection car company at Hagerstown, Ind.

CURRENT NEWS NOTES
Attended Beloit Dance: A number of the union harnessmakers of this city attended a dance given by that order in Beloit last evening.

Rathgen Initiated: Wisconsin Lodge No. 14 met in regular business session at the East Side Odd Fellows hall last evening. Mr. Chas. Rathgen was initiated in three degrees of the order.

Cars Blocked Yesterday: The cemetery car on the city street railway is giving transfers at the depots today and is not passing the Academy street tracks. The road at that point is completely blocked by the force of men who are straightening the Milwaukee road's tracks.

Many Swiss Arriving: Another party of Swiss bound for Monroe and Brodhead went through this city yesterday morning. There were only about half a dozen in this bunch. Hardly a day has passed of late that some immigrants have not come through here on their way to new homes.

New Gates Up: New gates have been erected at the River street end of the alley between the Janesville Machine company's plant and that of the Barb Wire Company.

Abandonment Case Adjourned: The Miller abandonment case which was adjourned Tuesday until yesterday was again adjourned when it was called this morning. The hearing was set for next Monday.

Will Go To Contest: A special train is to take students from Beloit and this city to the district declamatory contest which is to be held at Evansville on Friday evening. A large delegation of "rooters" will undoubtedly attend the contest as has been the case in years gone by. About one hundred scholars of the local school are expected to make the trip. The car will leave here at seven o'clock in the evening returning at the close of the speaking.

Will Go to Beloit: In response to an invitation from the Line City council of the Royal league, the local council has decided to visit Beloit Saturday evening. A number of members will make the trip, going via special car on the Interurban road.

A Delightful Dance: An enjoyable evening was in store for all who attended the dance at West Side Odd Fellows hall last evening, given by Olive Lodge, D. of H. Musical inspiration was furnished by the orchestra from the state school for the blind.

GONE TO THEIR FINAL REWARD
Herman Knowles

The funeral of the late Herman Knowles was held at the Baptist church this afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. Richard M. Vaughan officiating. The services were largely attended, a delegation of railway men being present from Harvard, where the deceased lived at the time of his death.

The pallbearers were E. Carman, G. H. Smith, L. M. Gosselin, I. W. Hagar, M. A. Crowley and H. Duncan, all of them being brother engineers from the Chicago and North-Western road. The remains will be taken to Ohio for burial.

Among the floral offerings were elaborate emblems from Harvard Lodge, No. 309, M. W. A., Harvard Chapter, No. 91, M. W. A., Harvard Order of Eastern Star, No. 362, the Chicago officials of the C. and N. W. road and the local chapters of B. of L. E., Nos. 185 and 96.

Thomas Jameson
Thomas Jameson, one of the plonear settlers of Rock county, died at his home in the town of Harmony, yesterday afternoon at five o'clock.

Mr. Jameson would have been 92 years of age had he lived until next July. He came to this country from Scotland in 1845 and settled on the farm in the town of Harmony where he died.

He is survived by his wife and seven children, Malcolm, D. J., and T. M. Jameson; Mrs. P. J. Erickson, and Mrs. A. Dickinson, all of Chicago and Peter Jameson and Mrs. W. M. Decker of Harmony.

The funeral services will be held from the family home Saturday afternoon at 1:30, Rev. S. G. Huey officiating.

WILL GIVE DEGREE TO MEN FROM ORFORDVILLE

Rock River Encampment Expects to Entertain Members of Subordinate Lodge.

It is believed that a half dozen members of the subordinate Waupesa Lodge, No. 76, at Orfordville, will be in the city tomorrow evening to receive the encampment degree at the meeting of Rock River Encampment, No. 3, I. O. O. F. The Orfordville men have been planning for some time to come to Janesville to receive the degree but difficulty has been experienced in securing a convenient evening. Final word will be received in regard to the matter today.

Murderer Kills Himself.

Dallas, Tex., April 16.—W. T. Phillips, the rich young farmer near Arlington who killed his wife and then fled on horseback, rode only a few miles to the home of his father, knelt down at the front gate, said a few words of prayer and then committed suicide by shooting himself through the head. Cause of the murder and suicide was jealousy.

Odd Affliction.

Webster, Mass., April 16.—William Russell, eleven years old, has a malady that puzzles the physicians. The boy is unable to speak or utter a syllable when it rains. On clear days he speaks English and French fluently for his age. Snow does not bother him as much as rain, but weakens his powers of articulation.

BACKING UP STATEMENTS

If this store puts a statement in print concerning its methods or its merchandise you can depend upon that statement being in every way backed up. We are careful here never to make statements which cannot be backed up. Public confidence came to us by a strict adherence to our printed promises. We make some forceful statements in this "ad" concerning certain lines of fresh seasonable goods. Suppose you visit the shop and see for yourself how carefully they are backed up.

IMPORTANT OUTER GARMENT SALE.

We've made careful preparation for a big selling event in our garment rooms. When you see style and quality linked to such low prices it will certainly pay you to carefully investigate.

Suits & Jackets. Women's Dress Skirts.

Recent large shipments have put our stock of Suits, Jackets, Blouses, Coats so far ahead of what might ordinarily be called a complete stock that all hopes of any house hereabouts reaching us must be blasted. We cannot picture in cold type the loveliness of the suits and spring garments. They come from New York's leading manufacturers and are very late. Suits in Etamine, Pongee, and fancy materials beautifully trimmed and only one of a style. Values in suits at $10, $15 to $25 in pretty mixtures that cannot be matched.

Spring garments in black taffeta and Peau de Soie silks, changeable cloth, black velour, etc., for ladies and misses. Swell styles that will not be common.

Ladies looking for exclusive novelties can surely get suited here.

Hundreds of them—styles to suit every one.

Some elaborately trimmed, others finished with stitching, strapped seams, etc. Plain and fancy wool materials, Etamines. Toffeta and Peau de Soie silks, lace net covered, cream and Marine blue Etamines with handsome silk drop-skirts, etc. We call particular attention to the reasonable prices at which we are able to offer our ready made garments. No complaints on that score.

This is novelty season in more ways than one, but we are talking ready to wear garments, and we have laid ourselves out to gather together a collection that cannot be out-bested by any line outside of the very largest. Read over again, what we said about backing up statements. They are cold facts.

J.M. BOSTWICK & SONS.

We Sometimes Smile.

WHEN we hear men commenting upon the always smart appearance of this, that or the other man and wondering who his tailor can be and how much he pays for his clothes; and the reason we smile is because sometimes this, that or the other man is a customer of ours and wears our clothes—That's why they are so smart looking. The suits we speak of today at are smarter looking than the usual "ready for service" clothing because first of all they come from the largest, most successful clothing manufacturers. The modeling and trimming is done by artist tailors—the attention given suits made for us is having its effect on the particular dressers of this city. There is a time not far distant when those men who have usually worn made to measure clothing of the medium priced variety will in preference wear the better grade of "ready for service" clothes such as we sell.

THERE are but few suits alike in pattern and any man can feel sure of a swell effect—instantly; there is no guess work about the fit. The "try on" completes the deal, the satisfaction is complete instantly. For men of sober taste the graceful FOUR BUTTON SACK. For men of keen style appreciation the VARSITY STYLE. Patterns are in brown, checks stripes, the latest ideas in fabrics.

CONCLUSION—Don't you think it is a mighty convenient thing to be able to step into our store and buy custom tailored clothes ready to wear, that will fit and satisfy you thoroughly? Many men who wish to be well dressed are for this reason wearing Ziegler Clothing.
